Dear reader, this page is for You.

It is not the writer's intention to use the words in this essay to hurt, or to offend anyone.

This essay is no more than a collection of facts, -no more, nor less, than words of truth.

We each have a choice,
we can either continue to believe in 'stories', or we can choose to accept reality.

Unfortunately, there are persons who are incapable of being honest with themselves, and who cannot bear to believe the truth, and especially-so when it suits their purpose to do so.

If the reader is one such person who cannot handle the truth, then the reader should immediately find some-thing-else to read, because that what follows are the blunt, un-adulterated facts.

Veriticus

Preface

This essay was written many months before the Australian 14 October 2023 Referendum, and at a time when the polls were indicating majority support for the 'Yes' campaign.

The purpose of this essay was to then try to enlighten those who would vote 'Yes', and to instead convince them to vote 'No'.

Every word in this essay, -the writer believes, is the absolute truth and, -in the cases of speculation, is as close to the truth as one could reasonably expect.

It was however, words from the mouths of Albanese, Pearson, Mayo, and Langton that caused the writer to add pages at the end of this essay.

Adding those pages, -in turn, resulted in the writer changing his opinion and causing this essay to be withheld from publication,
-in the hope of it leading to a 'Yes' result.

Only by understanding the words on those pages could the reader comprehend the writer's motives.

Truth Time

Of Australia's entire population, less than three percent are the people who claim to be 'Aboriginal'.
Of that three percent, there is a minority of people who have genuine Aboriginal blood in their veins, and only they can legitimately call themselves Aboriginal.

Those other people, -who call themselves Aboriginal, are not so, and they never will be so.

They are of mixed racial blood, and the overwhelming majority of them have more white blood running through their veins than black blood.

People of mixed race are the product of two, or more, distinct and genetically dissimilar races.
They are not, and they cannot claim to be, exclusively of one race.

Those persons of mixed race, who mistakenly call themselves Aboriginal, are not Aboriginal, they are hybrid, -what our American cousins call 'half-breeds' and, -until such time as a more suitable word is found, hybrid is the word that should be used to describe them.

As an example, Noel Pearson, Linda Burney, Thomas Mayo and their mates are hybrids.

They are not today, and they never will be, 'Aboriginal'.

To illustrate the point

If such creatures as 'Martians' existed, and if a 'Martian' was to mate with an 'Earthling', the product would be a creature part Martian and part Earthling, -a hybrid.

It could not claim to be exclusively Martian, nor could it claim to be exclusively Earthling because it would be neither, and exactly the same applies in the case of the product of any other combination of racially and genetically different parents.

In the case of a part Australian Aboriginal and part something else person, the time has come to find a more suitable, friendlier and honest description of hybrid persons.

The time has also come for Pearson. Mayo, and the other eighteen members of The Gang of Twenty,
-together with their supporters and associates, to be arrested, charged, convicted and sentenced for their crime of attempting to racially divide Australians, and the punishment should be severe,
-keeping in mind that we live on an overpopulated planet,
and that every little helps.
-and now, back to Truth Time.

Of the 763,800 or so, people of mixed race who today refer to themselves as being Aboriginal, perhaps ninety-seven percent of them are content to be called 'Australian', and they blend well into, and are an asset to the Australian population.

The remaining few is comprised of trouble-making dissidents such as Noel Pearson, Thomas Mayo, Marcia Langton, Linda Burney, and their kind, together with those 'wanna-be warriors' who dress in their 'traditional' giant-sized nappies, and who daub their bodies with white-man's paint, then stamp around in the dirt, kicking-up the dust, in their newly invented 'traditional' war dances, -trouble-makers who perhaps, -in total, number less than 10,000, which represents less than one troublemaking dissident for every two thousand Australians.

These people, with the help of the likes of Anthony Albanese and his gang, are endeavouring to incite and to stir racial-discontent and racial-conflict in Australia. These trouble-makers are trying to divide Australia along racial lines, and for their own purpose.

An insignificant, troublemaking tail, is being allowed to wag the Australian dog.

The obvious solution is to cut-off the tail.*

* The Aboriginal people, -not the hybrids, now have the opportunity to prove to the world that their culture has 'substance', and is not merely 'childish invented bullshit'.

Right now is the time for them 'to point the bone' at the troublemakers, -to kill them!
If it works, they will gain worldwide respect, and will be doing our country a great service.

'Pointing the bone' is allegedly a part of the Australian Aboriginal justice system.

It is supposedly used to 'execute' wrong-doers who flee from justice.

They, 'the Aboriginal elders' claim that it is impossible for a wrong-doer to escape it, -no matter where they hide, -or how far they flee, 'the bone' will get them.

Fortunately, -for the writer, it doesn't work for Aboriginals of mixed race.

Complete details of 'the bone', and of its use, can be obtained from the producers of the Australian Broadcasting Corporation's Aboriginal radio programme titled- 'Awaye', the host of which has, -undoubtedly, the sweetest, most easily listened to 'voice' on the entire Australian broadcasting network.

Photographs of 'wanna-be' Aboriginal warriors dressed-up as 'fat slob' in their Traditional Giant Oversize Nappies, -their flabby bodies daubed with white-man's paint, can be viewed, poncing around in the dirt, by entering the number 1987110504 into your search engine and clicking on Tiwi dancers / Aboriginal dancing.

The photographs were taken by Ludo Kuipers.

End of Preface.

The Real 'Referendum' Story

Albanese did not just wake up one morning and think, "Oh, today I'll call a Referendum".

It is the writer's carefully-considered belief that it did not happen that way, and that Noel Pearson had, -prior to the May 2022 Australian General Election, approached Albanese, -who was then the leader of the Labor Party opposition, with a proposition that he knew that Albanese would be unable to resist, or to refuse.

The writer believes that Pearson had secretly suggested to Albanese that-

"If, -at the coming election, Albanese was elected Prime Minister, and that if he then, -as Prime Minister, would call a referendum to enshrine the Uluru Statement in the Australian Constitution

then they, -Pearson and his gang, would secretly change the Constitution so that Australia became a Republic, and Albanese, -as the incumbent Prime Minister, would automatically become

'The First President' of the new 'Republic of Australia', and the name 'Albanese' would forever be etched into the pages of history," and Albanese, -with 'his unquenchable lust for power and glory' was so easily deceived, and he was prepared to sacrifice the well-being of each and every Australian in order to achieve it.

Within minutes of the result of the May 2022 Election being declared, Albanese was at the microphone announcing that 'He intended to hold a Referendum', and he clearly, and unmistakably added- "I intend to implement the Uluru Statement in full", even though, -as late as today, he freely admits to having never read the Uluru Statement.

He hasn't read it. He knows nothing about it, yet he intends to fully implement it.
Here is the evidence that, -in Albanese, Australia has got either 'an incompetent, irresponsible, gullible mug', or 'an evil, arrogant, deceitful, power-hungry traitor', for a Prime Minister.

In September 2022, -four months after being elected, 'Prime Minister' Albanese appointed a group of twenty Australians of 'questionably integrity', -to be known as 'The Referendum Working Group', and their supposed purpose was to establish An Indigenous 'Voice' to Parliament.

The group was comprised of twenty disgruntled people, each of whom 'claimed' to be Aboriginal, and who regarded themselves as being 'the educated elite', -thinking themselves to be better than we, and they falsely claimed to represent the interests of the Aboriginal people.

'The Voice', -it was claimed, would consist of 'an unknown number of un-named persons' who would be elected, selected, or chosen, (?) by 'other unknown persons', and 'these people' (The Voice.) would sit in the Australian Parliament, and instruct the Australian Government in respect of Aboriginal matters.

The people of the 'Referendum Working Group' are a bunch of conceited elitists, and there is not a single Aboriginal person amongst them.

I'll say that again, "There is not a single Aboriginal person amongst them!"

They cannot identify with the average Aboriginal person, and neither can they claim to represent them.

They certainly do not have the interests of the Aboriginal people at heart. Their motives are purely selfish, and are driven by greed, by jealousy, and by animosity.

From this point on, the writer will refer to them as being 'The Gang of Twenty'.

'Noel Pearson' is the leader of The Gang of Twenty.

Noel Pearson is a nasty, bad-mouthed person of mixed racial blood and, -without question, he is 'as-big-a-racist and hypocrite' as any that ever existed.

It was Pearson who started the campaign, 'To take back ownership of Australia' and taking back 'the Ownership of Every Square Centimetre of Australian Land' is what this Referendum is really all about.

Little wonder that the gang, -and their-complicit-friend Albanese, are keeping the intended changes secret from us.

It is beyond doubt that Noel Pearson was the person responsible for classifying 'all non-Aboriginal persons in Australia' as being 'Invaders'.

He must now be regarded as being the one who re-named 26 January 1788 as 'Invasion Day'.

Had Noel Pearson really been 'an Aboriginal person', then his remarks might have been plausible, but Noel Pearson is not an Aboriginal person, -he is a hybrid, -neither one nor the other and, -as such, he has no singular or legitimate claim whatsoever, to the Sovereignty of Australia.

What is more.pro

'Noel Pearson owes every single thing that he has got' to the people who he calls 'Invaders'.

Without us Invaders, the ungrateful Pearson would be even less than what he is.

Even his very existence he owes to us Invaders.

It is unbelievable that one nasty person, -such as Pearson, should be allowed to cause so much trouble and discontent.

For perhaps the past twenty years, or even more,
Noel Pearson has been obsessed with what he calls 'Taking back Ownership of Australia', and he is clearly on the record as having publicly said so.

As the leader of the Gang of Twenty,
Pearson has unquestionably contaminated the thinking and the morals of the other members of his gang,
-each one now tarred with the same brush.

For the past year, they have been secretly meeting, supposedly on matters of the Referendum, secretly meeting and, -without doubt, plotting against the Invaders.

Plotting to take over Ownership of Australia, being their main purpose.

The writer has got good reason to believe that-

For almost a year, this Gang of Twenty Hybrids have been secretly plotting to change Australia's Constitution in the following ways-

- 1/ To steal Ownership of Australia from 'the Invaders'
by enshrining 'the Aboriginal Peoples Sovereignty over Australia' into Australia's Constitution.
- 2/ To exact compensation from 'the Invaders'
by enshrining Financial Reparation into the Constitution, for 'the hurt and distress caused to the Aboriginal people' by 'the Invaders', and 'for the damage done to the Aboriginal people' by 'the Invaders'.
- 3/ To take control of Australia by enshrining Aboriginal Law over Australian Law.
 (Aboriginal Law, -as you read this, is still in the process of being invented.)
- 4/ But, most important of all, by enshrining in the Australian Constitution that 'Only an Aboriginal Person' could ever become
"the President of The Aboriginal People's Sovereign Republic of Australia".

Because 'that' is exactly what 'The Gang of Twenty hybrids' are demanding, and 'each one' of 'these four claims' is clearly detailed in 'the 112-page Uluru Statement'.

The reader is urged to read the 112-page Uluru Statement for themself.

Dear reader, please understand this.

The moment that the people of Australia vote 'Yes' to pass the Referendum into law, each and every one of the Secret Changes to our Constitution will become as if set in stone, and you will have Noel Pearson as your President.

If one of the Secret Changes gives 'the President' the power to dissolve Parliament, then the people that we have elected to govern us would be out on their ear, and 'the President' could then appoint whomever he chooses to make the laws, and if you read the Uluru Statement, you will know exactly what 'that' means.

Those Secret Changes could only be undone by another referendum, and 'no Aboriginal President' would ever allow another referendum that reversed the changes.

Australia would be stuck with the Secret Changes for the rest of time.

You can now never say that you did not know.

Simon Birmingham, and Julian Leeser, together with the other incompetent idiots, implored us to vote 'Yes', and the executives of our major companies financed it, and tried to make it happen. They were prepared to give total control of Australia, to Pearson and his gang.

Albanese's uncontrollable desire to become 'the First President of the Republic of Australia' is the reason why Albanese, -upon being elected, was in such a hurry to call the Referendum.

'That' is the reason why Albanese was rushing-around, pleading with everyone to vote 'Yes'.

'That' is why he has neglected government in order to concentrate upon 'his Quest'.

'That' is the reason why he was on the phone to the C.E.O's of the major Banks, the Supermarkets, and businesses, -both large and small, -including the sporting organisations, promising each C.E.O an Australian Title if they fully supported his 'Yes' campaign, because Albanese will do anything in order to become 'The President'.

The millions of dollars handed over by the C.E.O's of those companies were not given to support something about which they knew nothing at all. They handed-over the money only to buy honours for themselves.

Noel Pearson certainly intends that he and his gang will 'Change the Australian Constitution', -but he fully realises that he could not do it alone because only a Prime Minister has the power to call a referendum.

Pearson first needed 'to use' and 'to manipulate' the gullible, power-hungry Albanese before he could achieve his goal of changing Our Australian Constitution.

The Trojan Horse

Once upon a time, many-many years ago, -according to a Greek bloke named 'Homer',
"A Trojan Prince, -named 'Paris', abducted a Spartan Queen, -named 'Helen'."

This resulted in the Greeks waging a ten-year-long-war against the people of Troy.

The city of Troy was walled and was heavily fortified, -virtually impregnable.

The war was brought to an end when the Greeks built a large and rather nice, wooden horse.
They mounted it upon a wheeled platform, and left it outside the gates of Troy, before retreating.

The Trojans, -overwhelmed with curiosity, opened the gates, wheeled in the horse, and closed the gates.

What the Trojans did not know, was that some, -perhaps two, Grecian soldiers were hiding inside the body of the wooden horse.

When darkness fell, and the Trojans slept, the Greek soldiers opened a secret hatch, climbed out of the wooden horse, and opened the gates of Troy.

The waiting Greek army then marched in and sacked and burned the city.

The 'Voice to Parliament' can be likened to the Trojan Horse, because hidden inside the seemingly innocuous 'Voice' are the plans to steal Australia, and to subject Australians to 'the still being invented Aboriginal Law'.

The truth about 'The Voice to Parliament'

We should be most careful that we do not allow ourselves to be deceived by the words-

'Indigenous Voice to Parliament'

because these seemingly harmless words were especially chosen to hide 'the real agenda' which will prove to be about so much more than just 'a voice' in parliament.

'Their real agenda' is about changing the almost faultless Australian Constitution to enshrine 'Aboriginal Law' over Australian Law, and to enshrine 'the Aboriginal Claims of Sovereignty' into the Australian Constitution, -what the troublemakers call- 'Taking back ownership of Australia', together with exorbitant claims for financial reparation and compensation for the hurt, distress, and damage that 'the Invaders' have caused to the Aboriginal people.

of

There is also something that they call 'Unfinished Business' -but no-one, -other than the gang of twenty, knows what 'that' is supposed to mean.

-this 'Voice to Parliament' is something that is to be feared because, once the Australian Constitution is changed to include the hidden details it will be absolutely impossible to change it back to what it is today, and Australia will be burdened with it for the rest of time.

It is no wonder that Albanese is determined to keep the details secret from the Australian people.

There are many groupings of people living within Australia's bounds.

Apart from 'itinerants' and 'tourists' we are all Australian.

Unfortunately, one group of people does not see themselves as being such,
-and we are referring to those hybrids who identify themselves as 'Indigenous', or 'Ethnic' Aboriginals in preference to calling themselves Australian, and, -because of them, it has now become necessary for us to become overly pragmatic.

The meaning of 'Indigenous' is-'Occurring or living naturally in an area. Not introduced. Native.'

Kangaroos and Wombats are indigenous to Australia.

Aboriginals are not indigenous to Australia.

Aboriginals are an introduced species.

'Fifty-Thousand-years' is 'a-mere-blink-of-the-eye' in the eons of time, and it is of no consequence whatsoever, and can be discounted.

'Ethnicity' comes about by choice.

Ethnicity is intangible, it has no substance. It lives only in the confused mind.

Anybody can claim to be 'ethnic-anything'.

It is 'Race' that is important. It is 'Race' that matters, and Race is acquired by birth.

The writer would prefer to use the words 'Pseudo-Aboriginals' in place of the words 'Hybrids'. The meaning however is much the same. 'Pseudo' meaning 'false or fake', -not 'real' Aboriginal.

Australia's 'Pseudo-Aboriginals' need to understand that-

Only people with One-Hundred-Percent Aboriginal Blood in their veins are Aboriginal.
Only they can legally and morally call themselves 'Aboriginal'.

Anyone with less than One-Hundred-Percent Aboriginal blood in their veins is not Aboriginal.
They never can be, and they never will be.

Those persons are of Mixed Racial Blood, and are Pseudo-Aboriginal, and can be legally classified as 'hybrid'.

and, -as such, they can have no claim whatsoever to the Sovereignty of Australia.

Kangaroo and Possums may have a claim to the Sovereignty of Australia.
 Full-Blood-Aboriginals do not have any such claim, -they are an introduced species, but they do have a case to answer in respect of the genocide, -the slaughter, of the Melanesian First People of Australia.

There is nothing to be ashamed of in being a hybrid.

Such people did not choose to be so, and they cannot change it. It is the way they are.

If the reader is a hybrid, -and if you have got a problem with it, sort it out with your parents,
-otherwise just try to learn to live with it.

The word hybrid means 'of mixed racial blood'. Nothing more, nothing less.

You are not alone, there are millions of such people, -more than you can point a stick at.

If one of your parents was Aboriginal, or part Aboriginal, and the other parent was something-else, or part something-else, then you are not Aboriginal.
You cannot identify with the people who lived in Australia before the 26 January Colonisation Day, so just be grateful that you are an Australian.

If the above applies to you, and if you happen to be one of the trouble-making activists then not only should you be grateful that you are an Australian,

you should start to behave like one,

-and these words are intended for the likes of Thomas Mayo, Patrick Dodson, Linda Burney, and others like them.

The reader might have noticed that the biggest trouble-maker of all, Noel Pearson was excluded from the list. It was intentional, because-'It could possibly have been' that, when the aggressive-Aboriginal people invaded Melanesian-occupied Australia

the name 'Pearson' was a quite common name.

If it was, then Mr. Pearson could still be a full-blood Aboriginal.
This 'could' have been the case.

The writer doubts that it was, but he cannot prove otherwise.

The only alternative is that 'Mr. trouble-making Pearson' is no different to the others.
That he too is of mixed racial blood, and that, -as with Burney, Mayo, Dodson and their mates, he is just another ordinary trouble-making hybrid with no claim whatsoever to Australia.

As hybrids, Pearson and his mob have no claim whatsoever to the Sovereignty of Australia,

-and 'they will only get Sovereignty over Australia' if the reader votes for them to do so.

As the writer recalls, 'On the sixth day of January 2023, it was reported on ABC television that the Lawyer, Michael Mansell, -the then chairperson of the Aboriginal Land Council of Tasmania, first let-slip the truth about 'Aboriginal Law'. It was a law that we knew nothing about.

Whether, -at the time, Mansell's lips were loosened by alcohol, is not known by the writer, but let it slip he did. It happened thus-

The 12m. yacht 'Huntress', -with a crew of seven, -an entrant in the 2022 Sydney-Hobart race, had been abandoned at sea by her owner, -someone named Brent Dowton, on December 28 2022, -not long after the start of the race.

The owner and his crew, seemingly happy to endanger other people's lives, called to be rescued.

The reader can judge for themselves the state of the sea at the time.

Those land-lubbers were rescued by the local Police boat.

At the time of being abandoned the yacht had perfectly serviceable sails, engine and rudder.

On media reports, Dowton was quoted as saying "Something had hit one of the rudders."

If it happened, he obviously didn't bother to look over the stern to see what it might have been.

He was further quoted as saying that "He was 'driving' the yacht at the time, and that 'his partner' -named Victoria Logan -the yacht's navigator, was 'downstairs',"

-no doubt, doing the ironing.

For your information Dowton. 'Yachts are steered'. It is the wind that does 'the driving'.

The yacht, still seaworthy, and no worse for wear, washed up on Cape Barren Island, Tasmania, on January 6, 2023. -abandoned by persons who had no right to be at sea.

Someone at Rushcutters Bay (CYCA) should be held to account for this dilution of quality.

A message for Dowton, for Adam Goodes, for Victoria Logan, for the other four, and for any other wanna-be 'Ocean Racers'.

"Before you next leap onto the radio 'and start screaming to be rescued', take a look around.

Get below deck and find-out just where the water is pouring-in through the damaged hull, and then do whatever you can to slow or stop it.

Get your intrepid passenger over the side with something to cover the damage, and start bailing-out.

Only when the water is up to your arm-pits, and engine-oil is coating its surface, is the time to start thinking about readying the life-raft.

But better than all of that, do everyone a big favour, and stay away from anything that floats because people such as 'You', -who abandon a perfectly seaworthy, undamaged yacht, give sailing, and proper sailors a bad name.

I have got some really nasty words for You lot, but I'll save 'em 'till I see your faces!"

To the responsible person at 'The Cruising Yacht Club of Australia', I say this-
"You Sir, -or Madam, deserve to have a giant boathook jammed up your useless arse!"
because you are as guilty as the clowns who you permitted to enter the race.

I'll tell you reader, they don't make 'em like they used to.

For the record.

As the for'ard hand on a half-ton yacht, -during an IOR event, this writer was the first yachtsman in Australia 'to peel spinnakers',
-perhaps even the first one on this planet to do so.

The yacht was named 'Rebel'. The time 1974-ish. The place, somewhere east of Australia.

It was on 6 January 2023 after Mansell, -the pseudo-Aboriginal Lawyer, had become aware that the yacht Huntress had washed ashore on Tasmanian soil, that he excelled himself.

It was on that day that Mansell let slip the truth about Aboriginal Law,
-the very secret, recently invented Aboriginal Law, when he announced that Aboriginal Law states that-

"Of everything that lands on Aboriginal soil, or in its waters,
'One Third of its value' belongs to the Aboriginal people."

and he then demanded that 'the owner of the yacht must pay the money before he would permit the yacht to be recovered',
-or words to that effect.

It seems that Mansell's rantings were completely ignored because the yacht was salvaged without any payment.

But, -in his rantings, Mansell had let the truth slip out.

The truth about 'an invented Law' that no-one, other than he, the gang of twenty, -and probably Albanese, knew of.

A 'Law' that they intended to keep secret until after the Referendum had been passed and the details had been fully incorporated into the Australian Constitution.

A Secret Law that we would not learn about until after the Referendum, but by then, it would be too late, the damage to Australia would already be done!

But dopey old Michael had let 'the Aboriginal Law Bunyip' out of its swamp.

As was mentioned, Michael Mansell, -Lawyer, -activist, -and long-time trouble-maker, had let slip the truth about 'Aboriginal Law', -a law that we did not even know existed, and had it not been for dopey old Michael, we still would not know about it, and oh! what a surprise would lay in store for us, should the Referendum be passed.

According to Mansell, -and he claims to be 'a Lawyer', Aboriginal Law states that-

'One Third of everything that lands on Aboriginal soil belongs to the Aboriginal people.'

This is the work of 'a man with the brain of a child'.

Why only 'one third', Michael?

Figured that we wouldn't stand for fifty percent, did you?

If the Referendum is passed and if Aboriginal Law becomes Australian Law both the Police and the Courts will be obliged to enforce it.

Fail to understand that at your peril.

There follows a brief example of 'Aboriginal Law', as the writer understands it to be.

According to the Pseudo-Aboriginal-Lawyer Mansell.

If the house in which you live is on 'Aboriginal land', (-and according to Mansell, 'Aboriginal land stretches from the Pacific Ocean to the Indian Ocean, and from the Great Southern Ocean to the shores of New Guinea and Timor l'este.') then One Third of the value of that house is due and payable to the Aboriginals.

If you, or your landlord cannot pay, then One Third of the house becomes Aboriginal property, and if they want to rent their share of the house to other pseudo-aboriginals, or to anyone-else, or to move in with you, to occupy their One-Third of the house, there will be nothing that you can do.

It will include One Third of your furniture, your pots and pans, your crockery, your bed, your TV set, your clothes and shoes, the children's clothes and toys, the lawn-mower, your car or motor-cycle, your old cricket bat, the lot, -every single thing.

Ask yourself, "How would you like to have a group of hybrid Aboriginals move in with you? -and especially if they refuse to wash any pots or even to flush the toilet." Think about it.

If you choose to make a fuss, the Police, and the Courts will be on their side because the job of the Police is to enforce the law, be it a good law or a bad law.

If they own one third of your house you would never be able to sell it without their consent, and when you do, they would get one third of the sale price, and it is probable that you would not be able to take your money out of Australia without Aboriginal authorization, which you would be unlikely to get.

It gets even worse.

According to Mansell, 'One Third of each of the Banks will also become Aboriginal property',
-because the banks, -the same as with your house, landed on Aboriginal soil one brick at a time,
-and it will include One Third of the money contained in the Banks.

It is your hard-earned savings we are talking about.

Albanese didn't tell you about that, did he ?

An intelligent person would now immediately convert his/her Australian assets into cash and that means selling your house, -if you can, -because you won't be the only one trying to do so, and to then transfer your money into an account in another country.

It might also be wise to convert Australian Dollars into a safer currency, and if you do decide to do it, it needs to be done before Albanese's Referendum happens, because it will be absolutely certain that one part of this newly invented Aboriginal Law will prohibit the transfer of money and assets out of Australia without their written permission.

A permission which, as an Invader, you would stand little chance of getting.

Shops, Supermarkets, Petrol Stations, etc. will all be up for One Third of their Value.

Prices will rocket up, -and you, dear reader will be the one who will be doing the paying.

Those Australians with the brains and the money, will not be hanging around. They will be gone.

What happens then to those of us who have to stay? Well, I doubt it will be much fun.

'Aboriginal Law' is as newly born as are 'the newly invented traditional Aboriginal War Dances', as newly born as 'the recently invented Aboriginal Traditions', and 'as newly found as the lately discovered Aboriginal Ancestors', and it is as fresh as the Aboriginal claims that 'the Melanesian painted rock shelters' were 'Aboriginal Sacred Sites',
 -this together with the multitude of other so-called 'Aboriginal Sacred Sites', almost all of them 'discovered' (read 'invented') in the space of the past twenty years, and every one discovered after they greedily learned about 'Mining Royalties'.

The knowledge of the actual changes that are being planned to be made to our Constitution by 'Pearson and his gang' remains a very closely guarded secret.

It is probable that no-one-else, -other than those engaged in the re-drafting of the Constitution and Albanese, even knows of, or suspects, the Criminal Fraud that is taking place.

'Simple Simon' (Birmingham)'s desperation for media attention has led him to join Albanese, and, -like Albanese and Birmingham, Australia's leading institutions, such as Qantas, BHP, Woolworths, Wesfarmers (Coles), etc.
have given their unqualified support to something about which they know nothing at all.
 That does not say much for the intelligence and the mentality of their board members, and it spells disaster for persons who hold shares in those companies.

It was Noel Pearson who first conceived the plan
'To take back ownership of Australia' which he deviously disguised under the seemingly harmless title-
'An indigenous Voice to Parliament', and for no other reason than to keep the details of his plans secret from us.

Pearson, together with his co-conspirators Burney, Dodson and Albanese keep telling us that "After the Referendum has been passed, we can then sort out the details."

"That is what Parliament is there for, -to sort things out."

-blatant lies

that Albanese, -in his haste to become the President, knowingly allows his conspirator mates to outlandishly claim in their attempts to deceive us.

The facts are- The instant that the Referendum is approved by the vote of the Australian people any and all changes made to the Constitution become as if 'Set in Stone'.

Parliament cannot make changes to the Constitution,

-that fact is enshrined in our Constitution to protect us from the likes of Albanese.

Enshrining 'the Secret Details' of Pearson's 'Voice to Parliament' in our Constitution will completely cripple Australia.

It was Albanese who decided to hold the Referendum.

It is Albanese who is pressing us to vote 'Yes'.

On page 1, this writer suggested that there was a motive behind Albanese's actions.

There is no proof for what now follows, nor can there ever be, because Albanese and Pearson and their gangs will deny everything, but it is clearly the case that Albanese and Pearson, -at a time prior to the 2022 election, unlawfully colluded together in an attempt to deceive the Australian people by planning to illegally change the Australian Constitution from being a Constitutional Monarchy to being an Independent Republic, and that, unknown to Albanese, this new Republic was to be named- 'The Aboriginal Peoples Sovereign Republic of Australia', and the gullible, power-hungry Albanese was so easily fooled into believing that He, as the incumbent Prime Minister, would automatically become The First President of 'the Republic of Australia', and that his name would go down in history.

There can be no other explanation for Albanese's behaviour.

Because of this, the writer believes that Albanese agreed to look the other way whilst Pearson and his gang changed the wording.

Not just 'the wording of the question to be put to the people',
 -about which they pretend to have spent the past six months working on, but to change the actual wording of the Australian Constitution itself in order to achieve their ends, and that Albanese, -cunning and divisive as he is, was not smart-enough to realise that Pearson had much more in mind than just a simple change of name.

In this writer's book, that amounts to much more than just simple betrayal of the people.
 To this writer's mind it is Treason !

But Noel Pearson had got different plans.
 He would certainly 'fix the Constitution', but he would do it in a way that guarantees that only an Aboriginal person could ever become
"The President of 'the Aboriginal Peoples Sovereign Republic of Australia",
 -and that Aboriginal person would be 'him', -Noel Pearson.

But first he needed 'to use' and 'to manipulate' the gullible, power-hungry Albanese in order to achieve his goal of changing Our Australian Constitution.

It is the writer's considered belief that our Australian Constitution is about to be secretly and drastically changed in four major ways.

The First change to the Australian Constitution being that-

The Aboriginal 'nation' will be enshrined in the Australian Constitution as being the 'Sovereign Nation of Australia', and will be recognised as being 'the sole proprietor of Australia, -its land, -and its waters'.

The Second change to the Australian Constitution being that-

'Aboriginal Law will be incorporated into, and will over-ride Australian Law', and that the British and 'all of the other non-Aboriginal people in Australia' will be recognised in the Constitution as being 'Invaders', and reparation for the hurt, damage, and distress caused to the Aboriginal people by the Invaders will be due and will be payable to the Aboriginal people and, -according to Mansell, 'you' will lose One Third of everything you've got but, the writer suggests, it is likely to be much more than just One Third.

The Third change to the Australian Constitution being that-

The existing Australian Constitutional Monarchy, -upon the passing of the Referendum, will become null and void, and Australia will, -from that moment onward, be known as-

'The Aboriginal People's Sovereign Republic of Australia', with the Aboriginal Flag becoming the National Flag of Australia,

The Fourth change to the Australian Constitution being that-

Legislation will be incorporated into the Australian Constitution by which

'Only a person of Aboriginal heritage can ever become
The President of the Aboriginal People's Sovereign Republic of Australia'.

It will only be then, -after the people have voted 'Yes', that Albanese will realise how Pearson had fooled him into believing that he, -Albanese, would become the First President of the new Republic and that Pearson had used him solely to ensure the smooth passage of 'the Voice'.

The reader is urged to think carefully before doing anything that you might live to regret, and to ask yourself- "Am I prepared to swear allegiance to the Aboriginal Flag."

The writer believes that it is well past the time for Australia to become a Republic.
That it is time to be our own country, beholden to no other, and ruled by no other, but let us achieve it by honest and dignified means, and not by the sneaky, underhanded actions of the treacherous Albanese, who is, always has been, and always will be motivated by his own greedy lust for power and money.

Let us strive for a Republic where all Australians are equal and not one where 'a handful of genuine Aboriginals' and 'a bunch of hybrids with a persecution complex', lord it over, -and tax, the rest of us.

Obviously, Pearson will now strenuously deny that any such secret changes were planned.
Of course, he will!

If that is the case, Mr. Noel Pearson, there can be no reason or excuse why you should not publish,
-well before the day of the Referendum, the full and explicit details of every single one of the items that you intend to have enshrined in our Constitution.
There can be no reason or excuse whatsoever for not doing so.

If you fail to publish such details, the only reason can be because you have something to hide,
-and because you are intent upon corrupting the Australian Constitution.

By keeping the details secret, you and your co-conspirators, Albanese, Burney, Dodson, Mayo, et al, are merely endorsing the claims that the writer, -in previous pages, has made.

Give us a valid reason Mr. Pearson why it is necessary for you to maintain this Secrecy and Deceit, and explain to us the meaning of what you call- 'Unfinished Business'.

It is almost certain that the coming Referendum will be approved by the people of Australia, and that the newly invented Aboriginal law will become Australian law, and that it will then be the duty of the Police and the Courts to enforce it.

Unquestionably, when the Australian people 'wake up', -at some time after the Referendum, and realize how badly they have been swindled and deceived by people whom they trusted, anger will erupt and tempers will flare.

Police, politicians, and Aboriginals will flee to hide in the scrub-covered hills.

It would not be healthy to be wearing the shoes of those who do not.

Instead of trying to cultivate racial harmony, the gang of twenty have chosen to cultivate racial conflict.

At every turn they have chosen to amplify a worsening situation, and any blood that is spilled will be because of them.

It is in the hands of the Aboriginal people themselves to put an end to the trouble, to stop the racial division before it becomes unstoppable.

They know well who the troublemakers are, 'Noel Pearson, Patrick Dodson, Thomas Mayo, and the other seventeen members of the gang', plus Albanese and his gang and the fools who follow and support them.

There is no shortage of 'bones', and they claim to know how 'to point' them.

The people behind this pretend 'Indigenous Voice to Parliament', because of their greed, their arrogance, their jealousy, and their stupidity, have pulled the cork from the bottle that confined the Genie of Racial Hatred, and when the genie gets out of its bottle there will be no putting it back in.

The fools are now tugging-away at the cork on the bottle of the Genie of Racial Violence.

It is a minority of hybrids who have created this 'Them against Us' situation.

They are the ones who have played the Race card, and it is not difficult to see where it is going to lead, because we outnumber them by better than Two-Thousand to One.

Whilst the main details of Pearson's intended changes to our Constitution remain secret some details have slipped out.

We have already spoken of the incorporation of Aboriginal Law into Australian Law.

On February 11th this year, -on Sky news, a female Aboriginal elder unmistakably said-

"We did not, on 'Invasion Day' concede Sovereignty",

The Gang of Twenty hybrids are using the Aboriginal people in their attempt to steal Australia and its wealth for themselves.

Special Note

It is highly likely that the coming Referendum to change the Australian Constitution, -in respect of what is called the Indigenous Voice to Parliament, will be passed by the Australian people by their voting 'Yes'.

Almost every Aboriginal is likely to vote 'Yes'.

A recent survey conducted amongst Eighteen to Thirty Five year old Australians indicated that Eighty percent of them would vote Yes.

A similar survey between Thirty Six and Sixty year old Australians indicated that Sixty percent of them would vote Yes.

Eighty percent of persons of over Sixty said they would vote No.

From this it is clear that the Referendum to change the Constitution will easily succeed.

In the event that the changes to the Constitution are passed by a vote of the Australian people it will mean that Aboriginal Law will become Australian Law and it will be enforced by both the Police and the Courts.

You can be certain that one part of Aboriginal Law will prohibit the transfer of assets out of Australia without Aboriginal written permission. Permission that you are unlikely to get.

If you are going to do it, you need to do it right now.

It is not necessary for Australia to hold a wasteful, costly and divisive Referendum simply in order to duplicate something that already exists.

In Australia there already exists Parliamentary representatives, -elected by the people, whose purpose is to put before the Parliament the views and the needs of their constituents.

The proponents of the coming Referendum tell us that-

“All that they have in mind is to set-up ‘some people’ who will sit in Parliament and tell Parliament what the Aboriginal people feel and need”, and these proponents refer to this as ‘A Voice to Parliament’.

You do not need to hold a Referendum, or to change the Constitution, in order to achieve this.

That can be done by the Parliament with the laws that we already have.

This coming Referendum is about so much more than merely this ‘Voice to Parliament’, and the exact details of the changes that Albanese, and ‘Pearson and his gang’ intend to make to our Constitution are being kept secret from us,

-and it is not without good reason,

because if the Australian people knew what Albanese, and ‘Pearson and his gang’, were planning the Referendum would be rejected out of hand.

That is the reason why they find it so necessary to keep the details of the changes secret from us.

'The Gang of Twenty', -in this writer's opinion is a pack of disgruntled mixed-racial-blood so-called 'educated elites', who masquerade as-
'The Australian Referendum Working Group' and who have got it in their minds to steal the Sovereignty of Australia from us.

They are, -in diminishing order of grandeur,
 Rodney Dillon, Peter Yu, Dale Aduis, Tom Calma, Pat Turner, June Oscar
 Sean Gordon, Graeme Gardner, Jackie Huggins, Geraldine Atkinson, Dean Parkin
 Napau Pedro Stephen, Sally Scales, Marcus Stewart, Pat Anderson, Marcia Langton Megan Davis, Linda Burney, Thomas Mayo, Noel Pearson.

-with not a single 'Aboriginal' amongst the lot.

Every one of them, more white than black.

‘This Gang of Twenty hybrids’ have taken it upon themselves to secretly and illegally change the Australian Constitution to suit themselves, -and they claim to be doing it for the real Aboriginal inhabitants of Australia.

These hybrids, -having much of the blood that flows through their veins coming from the other side of the planet, -about as far away from Australia as you can get, regularly meet together, and are presumably being paid, -by the taxpayer, to do so.

Lately, it has leaked out that, at the outset of each meeting, and at its conclusion, -and whenever else they can find a time slot, they chant, -in unison, their newly invented ‘traditional’ anthem, ‘Always was, always will be Aboriginal land, Sovereignty never ceded’.

That is what this change to the Australian Constitution is all about, ‘Taking ownership of Australia’.

which would be reasonable had these gangsters been real Aboriginal persons, but with more than half of the blood in their veins coming from as far away as you can get it makes their chant and their claims look like childish trouble-making.

These trouble-makers are ‘anti-Australian’, and they are unfit to breathe our air, and as this writer keeps saying-

“There are more than enough lamp-posts, -and there is no shortage of rope.”

It can also be said that 'those Aboriginal clowns', who today daub themselves with white-man's paint and then ponce around in giant nappies, doing 'pretend war dances', -and trying to intimidate us, are equally guilty of causing the trouble,

-and there is good explanation, and good reason, why they wear such traditional 'giant oversize nappies'.

The reason why 'Aboriginal Warriors' wear such 'giant oversize nappies' is traditional and can be traced back to events of some Seventy-Thousand years ago in Sunda Land, when the long-haired black-skinned people were first confronted by the light-skinned people and, -as the long-haired black-skinned people cowardly fled into the scrub to hide, they left a continuous trail of their excreta on the ground, -which made it easy for the light-skinned people to follow, resulting in a massacre.

As a consequence of this, the long-haired black-skinned people took to wearing nappies, but ordinary nappies proved to be far too small.

To avoid leaving a trail, and to catch all of their excreta, they needed giant nappies.

Those giant oversize nappies then became standard wear for Aboriginal warriors and, -over the past fifty-thousand years they have become an established tradition.

So now you know.

The writer respectfully reminds the reader that photographs of those overweight, flabby, 'wanna-be Aboriginal warriors' dressed-up as 'fat slob' in their Traditional Giant Oversize Nappies, -their bodies daubed with white-man's paint, can be viewed poncing around in the dirt by entering the number 1987110504 into your search engine and clicking on Tiwi dancers / Aboriginal dancing. As was mentioned, the photographs were taken by Ludo Kuipers.

This writer asks of the reader-

Please, try to not judge me by what Albanese and Pearson and their gangs will say of me.

In order to continue the deceit, they will need to destroy my reputation and my credibility.

I could safeguard both of them by not publishing these words, but that would hand victory to those whom I regard as traitors.

Instead, I would ask the reader to try to judge me by my other writings.

I am asking you, dear reader, to please consider carefully the words that are used in this essay.

Ask yourself, 'Could there be the slightest bit of truth in them?'

Is Albanese trustworthy. Can you believe his word?

In his desperation to become 'The First President' of the 'Republic of Australia'

Albanese is prepared to throw both of us to the wolves.

And Pearson, in his quest 'To Take Ownership of Australia' is driven by no less than a twisted desire to seek unjustifiable imaginary vengeance and a desire to become the President of this land.

Australia is my home. My friends are Australians.

I do not want to see Australia changed into something that it should not be,

and I am not prepared to hand Australia over to Albanese and Pearson and their gangs.

My reputation, and my credibility is, -of course, of great importance to me,

-but so too is my self-respect, and that is why I have decided to publish this essay.

The truth about 'The Voice to Parliament'

We should be most careful that we do not allow ourselves to be deceived by the words-

'Indigenous Voice to Parliament'

because these seemingly harmless words were especially chosen to hide 'the real agenda' which will prove to be about so much more than just 'a voice' in parliament.

'Their real agenda' is about changing the almost faultless Australian Constitution to enshrine 'Aboriginal Law' over Australian Law, and to enshrine 'the Aboriginal Claims of Sovereignty' into the Australian Constitution, -what the troublemakers call- 'Taking back ownership of Australia', together with exorbitant claims for financial reparation and compensation for the hurt, distress, and damage that 'the Invaders' have caused to the Aboriginal people.

of

that, there is something that they call 'Unfinished Business'

-but no-one, -other than the gang of twenty, knows what 'that' is supposed to mean.

-this 'Voice to Parliament' is something that is to be feared

because, once the Australian Constitution is changed to include the hidden details it will be absolutely impossible to change it back to what it is today, and Australia will be burdened with it for the rest of time.

It is no wonder that Albanese is determined to keep the details secret from the Australian people.

One week after the Referendum.

This page has been purposely post-dated to one week after the Referendum, and it is based upon “The Australian people having followed the lead of the executives of Qantas and BHP, Woolworths, Coles, the Banks, the Sporting Clubs, plus the treacherous Simon Birmingham and Julian Leeser and the Labor politicians, and having voted ‘Yes’, and that Pearson and his gang have successfully sneaked through their secret changes to our Constitution, and that now, each of the Aboriginal claims to ‘Aboriginal Sovereignty over Australia’, of ‘Aboriginal Law taking precedence over Australian Law’, and of ‘Aboriginal claims for reparation’ have been forever enshrined into our Constitution and that you now live in “The Aboriginal People’s Sovereign Republic of Australia”, and are now subject to ‘Aboriginal Law’.

And there is nothing whatsoever that you can do about it, because You voted for it.
 No-one twisted your arm. No-one made you vote ‘Yes’. It was entirely your decision.

Albanese will try to squirm his way out of taking any blame, with all sorts of lies and excuses, but it was His idea, He proposed it, and He urgently and enthusiastically promoted it, and he did so because he wanted to be ‘the President’.

Ask yourself, dear reader, “Do I really want Noel Pearson to be the President of my country?”
because that is what you will be getting if you vote ‘Yes’.

Pearson will dump Albanese at the very first opportunity, as soon as he no longer has use for him, because Pearson is smart enough to not trust him.

So do not complain, you have had plenty of warning, you’ve had lots of time to sell your assets, to get a passport and an overseas bank account, and to get your money out of Australia, so get used to it, because the blame now rests upon Your shoulders.

Instead of striving to make Australia a better place for everyone, Noel Pearson and his gang, -those so-called 'educated elite', have chosen to do the opposite. They have chosen to divide Australians and to encourage and to bolster racial mistrust.

The writer sees Noel Pearson as a man driven by jealousy, hatred and vengeance, and the writer believes that Pearson and his gang are about to turn Australia into a land beset by racial hatred and violence, -something that could well end in genocide. It has happened once before in Australia, there is nothing to say that it will never happen again.

End of post-dated words.

Sunday 2 July 2023.

A Late, but Very Important Inclusion

On Saturday 1 July 2023, in response to being told that support for the Voice was plummeting, and that the latest poll showed the 'Yes' votes at 38%, the No votes at 55%, with 7% undecided, the Australian Prime Minister, Anthony Albanese was reported as saying-

"If the Referendum doesn't succeed, I will legislate the Voice."

-or words to that effect.

In saying 'that', Albanese is telling us that a Referendum to create 'a Voice' is totally unnecessary, and that 'if he had really cared' about the welfare of Australia's Aboriginal people then he would, -immediately after his election as Prime Minister, have initiated the legislation to give the Aboriginal people even better representation in Australia's Parliament, and that by now it would have long been in operation.

By now telling us that, -if the Referendum fails, he intends to create the 'Voice' by legislation, Albanese is also trying to sow the thought in the minds of the 'No' voters, causing them to think- 'Oh, the Aboriginals are going to get a voice anyway, so I might as well vote Yes'.

If an expensive and divisive Referendum in order to give the Aboriginal people a 'Voice' was not necessary, and could more easily and cheaply be done by passing legislation in Parliament, then there could be only One Reason for Albanese to hold a referendum.

"To secretly change the Australian Constitution, -without our knowledge, so that Albanese could become 'The President'."

Without question, this coming Referendum,
-the details of which Albanese is determined to keep secret from us, is all about enshrining Aboriginal Sovereignty over Australia into the Australian Constitution, and about enshrining Aboriginal Law over Australian Law into our Constitution, and it is about what the Aboriginals call-'Punishing the Invaders, and making them pay for the hurt, distress, and damage that they have caused to the Aboriginal people, by taking One Third of everything that the Invaders have got.

There could be no other reason for holding this Referendum.

The reader is urged to think most carefully before casting any vote because, should the Referendum be passed by a vote of the people, each and every Secret Change to the Constitution will be final and unchangeable, and Australia will be burdened with it for the rest of time.

It is now essential that we demand “That ‘every single detail of every single change that Albanese, and Pearson and his gang, are planning to make to Our Constitution’ be immediately published in its absolute fullness, with access to a copy of the changes made available to every citizen who is eligible to vote”.

If this does not happen, and if you vote ‘Yes’ in the coming Referendum, You will be voting for the newly invented and Secret Aboriginal Law to become Australian Law, for the Sovereignty of Australia to be handed-over to the trouble-making hybrids, and for Pearson to illegally become your President and, -on top of that, -according to Mansell, to have One Third of your possessions stolen from you.

When you vote, it will not be just ‘your’ life that you will be playing with.
It will be the lives of your children, your grandchildren, and everyone that follows.

You cannot now tell them that you did not know.

The writer suggests that there now exists a need for One Question to be asked of each of-Pearson, Albanese, Mayo, Burney, Davis, Langton and Dodson.

That One Question being-

“Do you intend to make ANY changes to the Australian Constitution in addition to that of ‘enshrining an unknown number of unknown persons’ to act in an advisory capacity to the Australian Government?”

Supplementary Questions might be-

- 1, “How then do you intend to enshrine Aboriginal Sovereignty over Australia into the Australian Constitution?”
- 2, “How then do you intend to extract reparation from the ‘Invaders’ in order to compensate the Aboriginal people for ‘the hurt, the distress and the damage’ caused to them by the Invaders?”

It is critically important that these questions be asked, -and answered, and that the answers be recorded.

If their answers are not indelibly on the record, there is no point in asking the questions.

If the questions on the previous page, -page 46, are asked of Pearson and Albanese,
-and of Mayo, Burney, Davis, Langton and Dodson, and if they each assure us that they have no intention of using the 2023 Referendum to make any undeclared changes to our Constitution other than appointing an unknown number of un-named persons to advise the Government of the day on Aboriginal matters, and if they then use the Referendum to sneak-through Secret-Changes to our Constitution, it is hoped that the Australian High Court might then declare the Referendum to have been unlawful and therefore invalid, and that the Australian Constitution would then revert to its pre-Referendum status.

That is if the Australian High Court has such powers.

If it hasn't, then we would be in big trouble.

In the event of the Referendum being revoked by the Australian High Court then those criminals, Albanese and Pearson and their gangs, together with the executives of those companies, banks, and sporting organisations, and those politicians who so stupidly gave their unqualified endorsement to Pearson's and Albanese's scheme, should be put on trial for Treason.

Summarising

The Australia of today is populated by peoples who come from diverse,
 -and sometimes opposing, national and cultural backgrounds, but we all, -with the exception of 'a minority of one particular group', have one thing in common.

We are all Australian, and we live together in peace and in harmony.

Equal opportunity exists for each and every person, in this land of plenty.

There is, of course, always one exception to every case, and in this case, that exception applies to 'a minority of one group of people who, wrongfully call themselves Australian Aboriginals', and there is undeniable reason why this small group of people -who claim to be 'so disadvantaged', are as they claim to be,

-and that reason is called- 'Living in the Past'.

They are both,

i/ the victims of the likes of Noel Pearson, Patrick Dodson, Thomas Mayo, and the other seventeen of that bunch of so-called 'educated' no-hopers, and ii/ the victims of their own idleness and aversion to work,

-they being solely responsible for their own predicament.

We clothe and we feed this minority of people. We try to educate both them and their children. We waste hundreds of billions of dollars in doing so, and in trying to raise their standards of living, as well as trying to instil in them the work ethic but, instead of grasping the opportunity that free education and financial support offers, they prefer to daub their bodies with white man's paint and ponce around in their giant nappies, and spend their time indoctrinating the young and the impressionable amongst them, and trying to turn them into activists and potential terrorists, -as well as trying to intimidate the nervous amongst us, and then they shout to all who will listen that 'they are disadvantaged'.

These people should be celebrating the fact that it was the British who colonised them and not a less-friendly people who would be much less tolerant of them.

The overwhelming majority of Australian Aboriginals who are living in today's world are hard-working, decent people who blend nicely into our society, and they battle along with the rest of us, in peaceful friendship and unity.

But that bunch of trouble-makers who masquerade as the 'educated elite', -that 'Gang of Twenty', are doing unimaginable harm to the reputation and to the image of the decent Aboriginal people by causing many otherwise tolerant Australians to now regard all Aboriginals in the same light, -as being whinging trouble-makers.

The Gang of Twenty, and their supporters are bent upon sowing the seeds of Racial hatred, and they are doing so with success.

Noel Pearson is obsessed with his lunatic idea of 'Taking Ownership of Australia'.

For over twenty years he has been planning a way to achieve it,
-a way to change Australia's charter from the existing 'Constitutional Monarchy' into becoming
'The Aboriginal People's Sovereign Republic of Australia'.

The only way that Pearson and his gang could achieve Aboriginal Sovereignty over Australia is by changing the Australian Constitution, and the only way that this could be done is by referendum.

The Australian people would never knowingly allow a referendum for such a purpose, nor would they ever knowingly allow a referendum for the purpose of enshrining Aboriginal Law over the existing Australian Law.

The only way that Pearson and his gang could achieve these changes, is by stealth,
-by underhandedness, by treachery, by fraud, and by deceit.

This so-called "Referendum to enshrine 'a Voice' to Parliament" is a deception.

It is merely a cover, that Pearson and his gang are using in order to conceal 'the Secret Changes' that they are planning to make to our Constitution,
-and this writer is convinced that Anthony Albanese, the Prime Minister of Australia is a knowing party to the Secret Changes and to the deceit, because Albanese thinks that 'he' is going to become the President of the new Republic, and he is prepared to sacrifice the well-being of his fellow Australians in order to achieve it.

'That' explains Albanese's secrecy, and his refusal to straightforwardly answer questions.

Instead of being open and honest, -and telling us exactly what is involved, Albanese and Burney are telling us–

“Just vote to pass the referendum, and then we will tell you.”

You would have to be pretty stupid to fall for that,

but many Australians are falling for it.

In Parliament, Linda Burney reads only pre-prepared statements and she refuses to answer straightforward questions.

Likewise, Albanese refuses to answer straightforward questions.

This coming Referendum is not a joke. It is a very serious matter, and if you vote to approve something about which you know nothing at all then you deserve to suffer whatever lies in store.

Noel Pearson, the man behind the move to hold a referendum, tells us–

and

“On ‘Invasion-Day’ we did not concede Sovereignty.”

If Australia votes ‘Yes’, then the day after the Referendum is declared you will wake to find yourself living in
‘The Aboriginal Peoples Sovereign Republic of Australia’

Michael Mansell, the pseudo-Aboriginal lawyer told us, -on 6 January 2023,
“One Third of Everything on Australia soil and in Australian waters belongs to the Aboriginal people.”

These were the words of a man with the brain of a child.

Why only one third Michael? why not the lot? frightened that we might revolt, eh?

One Third of it, -or all of it, -it doesn't matter, the sentiment is there.

Approve the Referendum and You will be paying Them for the privilege of driving on their roads,
 You will be paying them for the privilege of sitting on their beaches and in their parks.

Vote to approve the coming Referendum and Australia will become a Republic and you will have an Aboriginal President, and there will be two classes of people, - 'The Aboriginal Ruling Class' and 'The Invaders'.

and no Aboriginal President would ever allow another referendum that reversed the changes.

When Australians come to realise that they now have a new master, and when they realise that they have been betrayed by Albanese and those whom they trusted, and that they are going to lose at least One Third of everything that they have got,
 -and when they learn the full details of all of the other Secret Changes they will not just 'roll-over and accept it', instead, the anger will erupt.

There will then be all of the ingredients that you will need for the next genocide.

If the coming 2023 Referendum turns out to be exactly what they tell us it is supposed to be, namely 'To merely install an unknown number of unnamed persons into our parliament in order that these persons can tell our politicians what 'the Aboriginal people' want and need, then this will certainly not satisfy the Aboriginal people.

The Aboriginal people would then be demanding another referendum in which to enshrine 'Aboriginal Sovereignty over Australia' into our Constitution, and then they would demand yet another referendum in which to enshrine 'Aboriginal Law over Australian Law' into our Constitution, and still yet another referendum to enshrine Reparation for 'the hurt and distress caused to the Aboriginal people', and 'the damage done to the Aboriginal people' by 'the Invaders', and to have 'all non-Aboriginal people' regarded in the Constitution as being 'Invaders'.

They would then demand yet another referendum that enshrines the fact that 'Only an Aboriginal person' could ever become the President of the Aboriginal Peoples Sovereign Republic of Australia.'

Because that is 'exactly' what 'The Gang of Twenty' and their cronies are demanding, and each one of 'these four claims' is clearly detailed in 'their 112-page Uluru Statement'.

The Australian people would never allow another such referendum, and certainly not four of them, and how well do the gang of twenty know this. It is what keeps them awake at night.

The only possible way that Pearson and Albanese and their gangs could achieve their goal of making these changes to our Constitution, is by 'Sneaking all of the changes through un-noticed under cover of the hoax that they call 'The Voice', in this coming 2023 referendum', all the time knowing that the changes could never be undone.

'That' is the only possible way that they could achieve it.

"Trust us. Just vote 'Yes' and we can sort it out later."

That is 'Treason' at its absolute finest.

Those are the words of Albanese, Your Prime Minister, of the hybrid Linda Burney, and of Pearson himself, your soon to be President.

"Trust us mug Australian. Just vote 'Yes', -we can sort-out the details later."

-and 'later' will be too late, the damage will be done,

-and they will then say "But it was 'You' that voted for it".

For the past ten months, -or more, Pearson and his gang have been busily plotting the Secret Changes to our Constitution.

Albanese told us that “All that they were doing for those ten months or more was-‘sorting out the wording of the question that was to be used to present the Referendum’.”
That doesn’t take ten months. It shouldn’t take more than ten minutes !

No, those ten months were spent trying to conceal the secret changes.

Albanese knows that if we were aware of the planned secret changes to our Constitution
we would totally reject the Referendum, and his chances of ever becoming ‘the President of the new Republic’ would be forever gone.

‘That’ is why he refuses to answer even the simplest of questions about the Referendum.

In reality, Albanese never stood a chance of becoming the President of the new Republic, Pearson would have made sure of that but, Albanese’s lust for power blinded him to Pearson’s cunning and duplicity.

It is also, that the time has now come for us to demand the names and the identities of those CEO’s and Board Members who gave the money and the support to the ‘Yes’ campaign, and to demand their sacking, -or better still, their execution for treason,
-keeping in mind that we live on an overpopulated planet, and that every little helps.

And now, for a complete change in the writer's thinking.

The latest polling has indicated a decided swing against approving the Referendum. If Albanese and Pearson, and their gangs, succeed in 'sneaking' their Secret Changes into our Constitution under the cover of what they call 'The Voice', the changes to our Constitution will be for ever, -for the rest of time.

Whereas, if Australia votes 'No' we shall never know the truth.

We will never know of the treachery of Albanese and his gang, or of the gullible stupidity of Simon Birmingham and Julian Leeser, or of the duplicity of the executives of those companies that financed the 'Yes' campaign. We will never know of the underhandedness of Pearson, of Langton, of Davis and Burney and the rest of Pearson's gang of twenty.

If Australia votes 'No'
We will never know if the words in this essay were correct, or not.

We need to know the truth,
and there is Only One Way to discover The Truth, and that way is for us all to vote 'Yes'.

So let's do it, Vote 'Yes'. Bring it on!

Let's get the truth out into the open.

End of Part One.

The Appendix that follows was written after the defeat of The Referendum.

Appendix

dated 16 October 2023

In the light of the defeat of 'Albanese's Presidential Quest', we must now ask the question-
"Can the executives of those companies who so generously subscribed to the 'Yes' campaign still expect to receive the promised honours?"

One must hope it to be not so, because rewarding treachery is not a clever thing to do!

Confession, -and contrition, can result in forgiveness, and could save untold subsequent embarrassment and recriminations, because it needs only One executive to admit to having foolishly fallen for the old 'cash for honours' trick, to unleash a torrent of such admissions and, -in such an event, 'twould be better to not be on the record as being in total denial because, without question, the truth will, one day, see the light of day.

Those executives stole money from their shareholders solely to buy honours for themselves.

They must be made to repay the money out of their own pockets.

It is the only way to prevent a recurrence.

It is time to publish their names and addresses, and the size of their 'donation'.

Those Aboriginal and hybrid persons who still pursue the claims of the Uluru Statement,
-because of their stupidity,
do not realise what 'a can of worms' they are opening,
and that it will come back to bite them.

They forget that for every One of them, there are over Thirty of us, and that we have the whip hand.

They forget that for every One of their trouble-makers, we number Two Thousand.

Noel Pearson, and his trouble-making mates, will be the downfall of the Aboriginal people.

Despite Albanese's "Just vote 'Yes' and we can sort out the details later" approach, Australians, -unfortunately, decisively rejected Albanese's Referendum.

Had Australia instead voted 'Yes' for 'The Voice', then all of its hidden clauses, -as written in the Uluru Statement, would have become the law and it would have been without question that Noel Pearson would have become the President of the Aboriginal Peoples Sovereign Republic of Australia, and the new Constitution would have given him the power to dissolve our Parliament and to replace our elected politicians with persons of his own choosing, and he would then have succeeded in taking ownership of Australia, and of all its assets, and we, the 'Invaders' would then have become second class citizens, and we would forever be paying reparation to the Aboriginals for our so-called 'sins'.

Any person who is of the opinion that we Invaders would have accepted 'that' is deluded.

Without question, it would have led to the Second Australian Genocide, -and the problem would have been solved.

Maybe next time, eh?

End of Story.
